1. INT. LIVING ROOM NIGHT.

The lights are low and candles flicker, a couple of romantic DVDs lie on the coffee table. CHIP and PEGGY-SUE, reclining in other's arms on the chesterfield, have just finished a romantic dinner. Chip gets up and collects the plates from the coffee table.

CHIP

I've just got to something in the kitchen.

PEGGY-SUE

I'll be here.

Peggy-Sue reaches out and drags her finger in a long sweep across her plate, gathering up some sauce. Then in a single sultry motion she licks her finger clean. Chip trots off, giggling in anticipation.

Peggy-Sue re-arranges herself on the couch. She preens a little bit: fixes her hair, applies some fresh lipstick. She smooths out her clothes then takes up her most sultry attitude on the chesterfield and waits.

And waits.

From the kitchen there's tinkle of bells. The fridge motor starts.

Peggy-Sue makes a fine adjustment. The fridge motor continues to run. She attends to the sound. More tinkling accompanied by giggling rises then lowers. She strains to figure out what it is. She returns to her original attitude again, and waits. That giggling and ringing again. She definitely heard it. She sits up and listens. The soft ringing and giggling continues. Peggy-Sue leaves the couch to investigate.

2. INT. KITCHEN NIGHT.

Chip holds the freezer door open, but it blocks his face. The giggling and ringing come from here. Peggy-Sue walks up behind him, folds her arms and shakes her head in disapproval. She clears her throat. The ringing and giggling stop. Chip lifts his head from behind the freezer door. He wears a HOT HEDZ JESTER HAT (with bells on the ends), MITTS and SCARF.

CHIP
(Miffed)

I'll be there when I'm through.

Chip sticks his head back into the freezer. Inside he shakes his head so the bells ring and he lets out a giggle. Peggy-Sue rolls her eyes and stomps out.

3. PRODUCT SHOT

A selection of HOT HEDZ products are arranged inside a frost laden freezer.
